Lighting and Acoustics: a strong investment for this fair Discover the future of lighting with Indelague at Light + Building 2024

The Portuguese lighting company will be exhibiting in Frankfurt its most recent innovations that combine efficiency, sustainability and design at the world's largest showcase for the sector.

Indelague, a Portuguese company specialising in lighting solutions, will be among the main characters at Light + Building 2024, the world's largest trade fair for lighting and building technology, taking place from 3 to 8 March in Frankfurt, Germany. At the show, it will present its innovations in line with market trends, which focus on efficiency and sustainability, and that innovate in the way in which light is presented without being noticeable. A revolutionary approach that redefines the concept of contemporary lighting.

The Indelague - Roxo Lighting stand will be located in Hall 3.0, Stand C30. Among the company's highlights will be products that integrate lighting and acoustics. It will present a wide range of solutions that not only visually transform spaces, but also provide pleasant sound environments. It will also present products that use recycled materials, reinforcing its commitment to sustainability.

"We are delighted to continue our participation in Light + Building and to show our lighting solutions that combine efficiency, sustainability and design. We believe that lighting is an art form that can transform spaces and people's emotions. That's why we strive to create products that are almost invisible but create surprising and personalised effects," says Miguel Silva, CEO of Indelague - Roxo Lighting.

He adds that the participation in Light + Building is crucial to the company's global growth strategy. This international fair is an essential meeting point, providing the company with a platform to present its innovations to a diversified audience and to establish strategic partnerships that will boost its presence on the world market.

Light + Building is the benchmark event for the lighting and building technology sector, bringing together more than 2,700 exhibitors and around 220,000 visitors from all over the world. This year's theme is "Be electrified", with a focus on sustainability, connectivity and work + life. The fair covers everything from intelligent lighting technology to the electrification and digitalisation of the home and building technology, as well as connected security.

Indelague - Roxo Lighting invites all those interested to visit its stand at Light + Building 2024 and find out about its innovative proposals for the lighting market.
